

United States Army Parachute Team the Golden Knights

By Doug Roth

www.dougsflightsoffancy.com

I hope you enjoy this ai Golden Knights F-27 package. It took me quite some time to paint it. Even still there are some things that don't quite match the real thing, but it's close enough for ai aircraft.

Thanks for Dee Waldron's F-27 ai model for which this would be impossible without.

On the right is a picture I took driving by Republic Airport last summer during the big air show.

---

One limitation of the model is that the parts circled in the image below were not mapped on the model to any texture so I can't color them. I even colored the whole thing red just to check and they remained colorless. There is nothing I can do about it. The paint kit from David Carter is a great one and I couldn't do without that either.

I also used a heavier font for the script on the side of the plane than the real thing. Just my preference.

To see more images of this aircraft go to airliners.net and search for Golden Knights.